OP PACKAGING

Impressions that ripple.

Vision

Creativity. Connectivity. Sustainability. Our vision is to champion industry excellence, further expertise, and provide packaging solutions with lasting benefits for all.

Mission

Customer satisfaction and team-led innovation form the heart of what we do. We never stop striving to deliver excellence, seeking out solutions for greater standards of service.

OP Packaging
PAPERBOARD

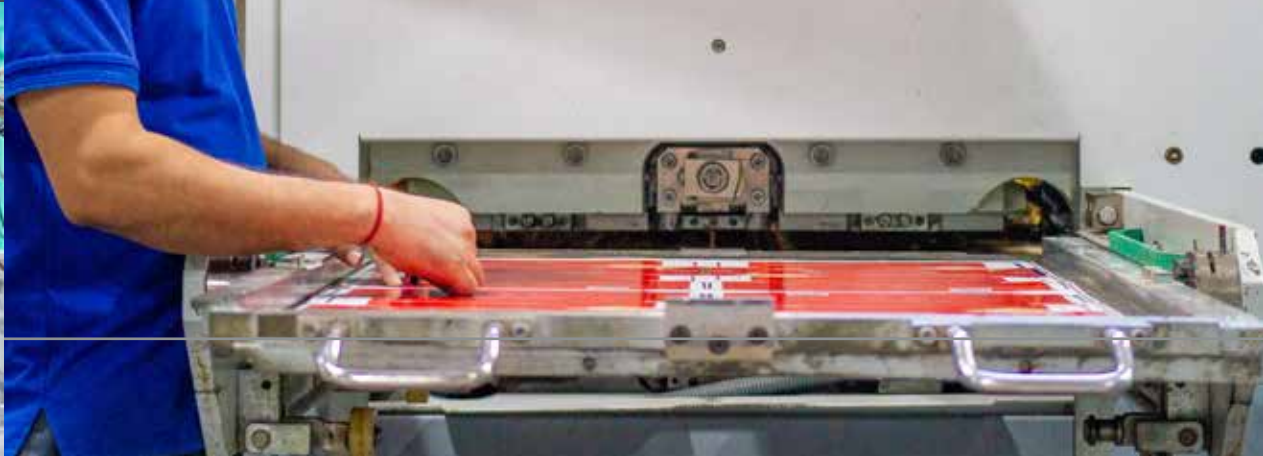

Efficient systems and sky-high standards transform the intricacy of color and substrates into simplified, user-friendly solutions for our valued clientele.

Our success stems from our people.

A People's Approach

We value talent and nurture expertise. By cultivating our workforce and positioning them to shine, we are able to continuously raise our standards and services to the uppermost levels of distinction. Our dedicated team and culture of growth form the backbone of our achievements.

Discover why we're trusted by the world's leading consumer brands, and allow us to unleash your brand potential.

We bring seven decades of experience to the table so you only need to bring your imagination.

Process-Driven Results

Our processes and procedures are the essence of our operations as they allow us to balance creativity with consistency, to achieve novelty and equilibrium. That encourages innovation alongside results-driven outcomes.

Our paperboard packaging product offering includes most types of folding cartons (straight-line, 4-corner, 6-corner, etc.), all types of laminated and un-laminated substrates, and a variety of finishing options including UV varnishing, foiling, blade-fixing, and window-patching.

Our industry never stops evolving, and neither do we. We continuously aim to invest in the latest in automated technology for our customers.

From ideation to fulfillment, we work alongside the world's leading brands to realize bold new visions.

Technology that makes the Difference

Our clients deserve the competitive edge that only the latest advancements in our industry can provide. We have made it our mission to consistently stay ahead of the curve, equipping our teams and systems with the advanced technology that widens our horizons, allowing us to produce a stunning array of folding cartons and other packaging solutions.

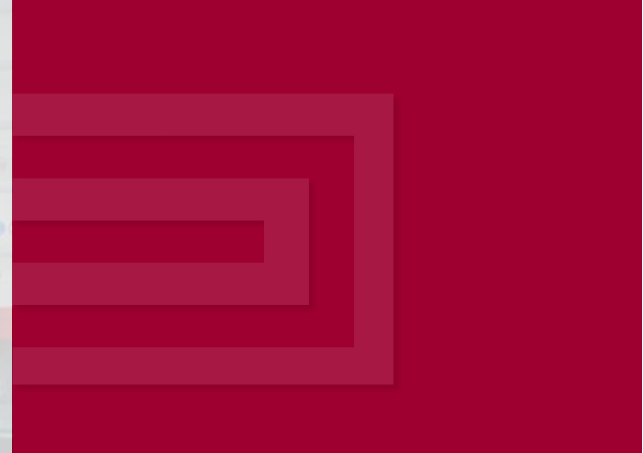

We are continuously on the lookout for the latest prepress, printing, varnishing, die-cutting, folding-gluing, and ancillary technologies. We invest in top-tier machinery and equipment so that you can focus on selling your products.

OP Packaging
FLEXIBLE

New product solutions in an ever-evolving industry.

The Future is Flexible

In 2019, we expanded our innovative range to include the latest developments in flexible packaging solutions. By investing in the very latest flexographic printing, lamination, and slitting technology, we were able to heighten our standards for excellence further, and produce a wider array of products while maintaining our signature commitment to quality.

Alongside this exciting addition to our production portfolio, we also ensured our production staff were trained with the latest industry knowledge when it comes to the developing field of flexible packaging. As such, we're able to offer valuable insights to our clientele, providing technical knowledge at our headquarters, your sites, and wherever you need us to be.

Meeting Industry Needs with Insight and Expertise

Every expert team needs access to expert tools. We've sourced the industry's leading machinery and technical equipment, facilitating the use of a wide array of unique substrates including - but not limited to - LDPE, aluminum foil, HDPE, BOPP, CPP, OPA, PET, and many more besides.

As a result, our team is ready to serve a spectrum of different industries, each with individual needs and packaging requirements. From the pharmaceuticals industry to food & beverage, we're able to provide packaging solutions which strike the balance between form, function, and aesthetics, with no compromises made when it comes to quality or integrity.

Agile and reliable packaging for all your industry needs.

Quality assurance is central to product development. Our in-house lab goes above and beyond with microscopic attention to detail.

Meeting the Highest Standards, as Standard

We believe in looking after the finer details. That's why the OP Packaging plant has been purpose-built, optimizing each aspect to ensure quality and efficiency on every step of the way. As such, we consistently meet quality checks, and guarantee our products are fully compliant with food safety regulations and standards from the moment we receive the raw materials, to the final processes of printing, laminating, slitting, and finishing.

When your imagination meets our attitude of inventiveness and sustainability, there's no end to the competitive advantages to be gained.

We collaborate with leading raw material developers to exceed your expectations.

Research & Development for Future Growth

Ever since our founding in 1952 the OP Group has resolved to constantly look to the future, adopting a forward-thinking mindset driven by results and inspired by innovation.

We believe that the successes of tomorrow are built upon the R&D investments of today, and key to our mission is being aware of our clients' future needs and requirements. As such, we've established lasting relationships with leading packaging specialists and researchers, allowing us to test new techniques, and adopt the latest technologies.

From brand protection to cost optimization, we provide you with data-oriented solutions.
